This would allow the military to work and interact with the civilian trauma facilities and agencies.

- VII. Presentation: Trauma System Ten Year Review – Dr. Cathey and Dr. Stewart presented data obtained from the trauma registry for the last 10 years. The data showed that most level III trauma centers in the southwest part of the state are treating fewer trauma patients than they did 10 years ago. The data also showed that most of the trauma being transferred is of the low acuity trauma patients. The most common pediatric transfer from level III facilities was a humorous fracture. Summary is that the data shows that a lot of trauma patients that could be treated in a level III facility keeping the patient closer to home are being transferred to a higher level of care. The question was asked is this the right thing to do for the patient. Dr. Cathey did state that Duncan Regional is taking care of more trauma than in the past.

VIII. Public Comment

- A. Alicia Webster talked about the Region 3 Stroke Education held October 4th, 2017 at Comanche County Memorial Hospital. They did not have a very good turnout.
